Streamlining of the Crime Investigating Agencies in Delhi

246. SHRI RAMDAS AGARWAL: Will the Minister of HOME AFFAIRS be pleased to state:

(a) whether Government's attention has been drawn to an article published in the Hindustan Times dated the 12th April, 1992 revealing that over 50 per cent of the guilty, who are involved in criminal offences, go scot-free because of poor standards of investigating team of police officers in various important cases and also on account of deliberate attempt on the part of the police stations in the Capital to twist basic facts stated in the First Information Reports;

(b) whether it is also a fact that graph of various offences in Delhi has been rising steadily despite all claims by Government of unearthing criminal gangs by the Police;

(c) if so, what are the reasons thereof including passing of severe strictures against investigating agency recently by the trial courts; and

(d) what steps Government propose to take to streamline the functioning of both the investigating and prosecuting agencies in the capital?

THE MINISTER OF STATE IN THE MINISTRY OF PARLIAMENTARY AFFAIRS AND THE MINISTER OF STATE IN THE MINISTRY OF HOME AFFAIRS (SHRI M. M. JACOB): (a) Yes, Sir. The Delhi Police has reported that a number of persons against whom criminal cases have been registered have been acquitted by the courts but it is not correct that it is on account of poor standard of investigation or deliberate twisting of the basic facts stated in the First Information Report by the police officers.

(b) and (c) Yes, Sir. Over the years there has been an increase in the overall crime rate in Delhi. The main reasons for the increase in crime are rapid urbanisation and increase in population. In few cases, the courts have passed strictures against the investigation officers for defective investigation. Departmental action is taken against the police officers whenever strictures are passed against them.

(d) Amongst the steps taken are:—

(i) Refresher courses for police officers are being conducted to familiarise them fully with the relevant provisions of law and their amendments from time to time.

(ii) SHOs/IOs are being impressed upon to ensure proper 'pairvi' of the cases in courts.

(iii) Scientific methods of investigation are being adopted.

(iv) The SHOs are impressed upon to associate public witnesses.
